

List of figures and tables

Figures

Figure 1	Centralized versus distributed ledger	6
Figure 2	The degree of decentralization of distributed ledgers varies	9
Figure 3	Typical international trade documentation issued	18
Figure 4	Four processes involved in cross-border trade transactions	19
Figure 5	Use of letters of credit versus open account (world trade volumes from 1978-2013)	20
Figure 6	The traditional trade finance process is highly fragmented across multiple entities and processes	21
Figure 7	Numerous players, documents and data elements are involved in a trade finance transaction	22
Figure 8	Example of letter of credit process	23
Figure 9	Cross-border G2G scenarios	37
Figure 10	Maersk-IBM Global Trade Digitization Project	43
Figure 11	The Correspondent Banking Model	49
Figure 12	Financial services firms invest early in Blockchain	51
Figure 13	Illustration of an end-to-end traceability process	78
Figure 14	Number of people using the internet, in millions, 2005-17	86
Figure 15	Internet users (%) in 2015	87
Figure 16	Internet users (per 100 inhabitants)	87
Figure 17	Gap in internet use (per 100 inhabitants)	88
Figure 18	International internet bandwidth per internet user (in bit/second)	89
Figure 19	Blockchain Business Value Forecast	107